Student Success

Every year our students progress to a wide range of leading universities across the UK. Here's some of the reasons why they love OnCampus London

"I studied the International Foundation Programme. I had never studied English before, it was hard at first, but it also helped me prepare for the study at LSE. I studied Economics, Social Psychology and double Mathematics. The subjects that I studied at OnCampus helped me to understand the basic knowledge that I needed for study at LSE. The support I got from OnCampus was that they helped me to write my personal statement."
